Fixed Rate Loans will revert to the current Mortgage Simplifier variable interest rate at the end of the fixed interest period. If your customers select a fixed rate loan, break costs may be payable if, at any time before the fixed rate expires, they (1) pay out their loan, make an additional payment of $10,000 or more, or they make additional payments totalling $10,000 or more in any one-year period (with the first one-year period starting on the first day of the fixed interest period), or (2) they ask us to make certain changes to their loan including but not limited to their loan type, their repayment type, their loan purpose, their fixed interest period, the security on their property, their approved loan amount, their loan term, the borrowers on your loan or any other change that requires your loan to be re-documented. They should refer to the Home Loan terms and conditions for details and contact us on 133 464 for an estimate of the break costs that may be payable by them in the above circumstances. Any additional payments or advanced funds are not available for redraw during the fixed interest period. *Comparison rates: The comparison rate is based on a home loan amount of $150,000 over a loan term of 25 years. WARNING: This comparison rate is true only for the examples given and may not include all fees and charges. Different terms, fees or other loan amounts might result in a different comparison rate.
