

Commercial Update.

Commercial Variable Interest Rate Reduction for Existing Customers

We recently announced that we'd be decreasing our variable interest rates on all existing priority commercial mortgage loan products by 0.35% p.a. We're pleased to advise you that this decrease became effective today. Our customers will be receiving details of their variable interest rate change over the coming weeks.

As noted in our previous communication, variable interest rates for new loans are unchanged.

For information on our current interest rates, see our Introducer website.

ING Commercial Serviceability Calculator

As part of a regular review of the ING Living Expense Benchmark, there will be an increase in living expenses for commercial loan applications received from 16 April 2020.

The new calculator will be made available from 16 April 2020 on the secure section of our introducer website.
